

FROM ME TO YOU

Waking up in my home felt like a daily miracle. The View is heaven here on Earth. Everyday there is a new story in the sky. A new version of this view that never gets old. The water is so sweet and pure, it is my favorite beverage. The air at 8300 feet is so clean and fresh. I'm so grateful to have been blessed to have spent the last 5 years here waking up to these trees. This property is sacred and loved. The animals regularly come through to visit - moose, elk, deer, coyotes & wild turkeys. They became my friends.

I came here to heal my heart and it worked. I found the love of my life in the last year. I started a dog rescue which is why I needed to move. Otherwise, I would have never moved. The updates I did were because I thought it would be my forever home. The bath with a view. The colors and tile that say creativity and life. The deep teal in the bedrooms support the most beautiful rest. The wood that surrounds every aspect made me feel held by nature. I love this house beyond measure, and I hope you will too!
