

FROM US TO YOU

There is so much to love about our beautiful mountain home - here are just a few of the things we will miss the most!

An Unbeatable Connection to Nature

Living here truly feels like being on a permanent vacation. There is absolutely nothing like sitting on the back deck first thing in the morning, breathing in the crisp mountain air, and watching the neighborhood moose mosey on by against a backdrop of trees and peaks. The peace and seclusion here are unmatched. Whether it's relaxing in the hot tub while watching the sunset or laying in the hammock with a good book, this property is a true sanctuary. Plus, having direct access to neighborhood trails means nature is always just steps away - it is the absolute perfect way to break up a workday during lunch.

A Thoughtfully Designed, Light-Filled Home

The house itself was crafted to embrace the natural beauty that surrounds it. It is entirely flooded with natural light and features an incredibly designed layout where no space is wasted. The standout craftsmanship and premium quality of the building materials are evident the moment you step inside, making the home feel both luxurious and perfectly integrated into its mountain environment.

The Perfect Blend of Seclusion and Convenience

While you feel completely immersed in your own private paradise, the home offers fantastic accessibility. It takes just 20 minutes to get to Boulder and 50 minutes to get to Denver when using the scenic summer road, giving you the absolute best of both worlds.

An Incredible Community

Beyond the physical house and land, the community here is deeply special. We have been blessed with incredibly friendly, helpful, and genuinely interesting neighbors who make the neighborhood feel like home.

We will miss this house and this beautiful place so much, and we hope the next owners cherish it just as we have!
