WHAT IS COVENANTS ADMINISTRATION?

Role and Purpose

The mission of the Covenants Administration department is to promote and foster the attractiveness and quality of life of the Reston community by administering – fairly and consistently – the adopted guidelines and protective covenants related to the design, maintenance, and use of residential and certain commercial and non-residential properties. These properties include more than 21,000 residential lots, non-residential, commercial complexes, and open and recreational spaces.

Who to Contact

To contact someone in the covenants department, please call 703-435-6530.

Covenants Advisors

Each neighborhood or cluster under the RA umbrella has an assigned advisor that is responsible for the following: (1) processing applications submitted for design review, (2) answering questions related to inspections, (3) consulting if a proposed project meets cluster standards or design guidelines, and (4) liaising with cluster association sub-HOAs.

Resale Documents and Inspections

Being member of a common interest community, all members are required to order a resale disclosure package when selling their home. This package includes the governing documents, resolutions, insurance, most recent approved budget, and the results of an exterior lot inspection to ensure the lot and contained improvements conform with RA protective covenants.

Helpful information for buyers regarding the resale process and available resources can be found at: <https://www.reston.org/Resale-Disclosure-Documents>

Design Review Applications

Most exterior modifications will require review by and approval of the DRB. DRB applications are generally reviewed for conformance with cluster standards and/or applicable Design Guidelines. All DRB applications require at least three (3) signatures as required by the Reston Amended Deed. Single Family Detached homes (non-cluster) require three neighboring lot signatures. Cluster properties require a signature from each of the following: an adjacent lot, a lot within view, and a cluster association board officer.

Design Guidelines and Cluster Standards

RA's Design Guidelines provide general guidance on acceptable exterior modifications and establish application review levels. Design Guideline changes are proposed by the Design Review Board (DRB) and approved by the RA Board of Directors. Cluster standards are specific to each cluster, cover basic or unique elements, and must still adhere to the Design Guidelines. Cluster standards are proposed by each cluster association's Board of Directors and approved by the DRB.

Affected Party

The Reston Amended Deed affords any member who is materially impacted by the use or design of another Property to register as an Affected Party (AP) on an application being reviewed by the DRB. Any Affected Party may be heard by a DRB Panel; will receive notice of decisions and any subsequent actions taken by the DRB; will be sent notice of the Applicant's appeal, if made; and may file his/her own appeal. Applications with an AP must be reviewed by either a Panel of the DRB or the Full Design Review Board.

WHAT IS COVENANTS ADMINISTRATION?

Cluster and Condo or Reston Association – Who is Responsible?

Cluster or Condominium Associations are discrete and independent entities that are members of RA. Each association has its own set of governing documents, board of directors, rules and regulations, assessments, and services (trash, landscaping, plowing, etc.) provided. Most needs of members in these associations will be under the purview of the association's board of directors, not RA. However, since RA is the master association, all members are required to adhere to not only their cluster associations rules and regulations, but also RA's protective covenants. Most cluster associations defer enforcement of non-compliance issues to RA.

A large majority of single family detached homes are not lots within cluster associations and therefore fall directly under RA's protective covenants.

Types of Inspections Conducted

RA staff conducts four types of inspections. All inspections (except for resales) require fourteen (14) days written notice prior to conducting the inspection. They include:

Complaints

As a result of a formal written complaint by a RA member (complainant) related to an alleged violation, staff will provide fourteen (14) days' notice of intent to inspect. Results of that inspection are then provided to the owner and the complainant and potentially referred to RA's Covenants Committee.

Walkthroughs

Walkthrough inspections are cluster-wide inspections of all member properties, including cluster association-owner property. Cluster associations request and qualify for walkthroughs and Covenants Staff works closely with cluster associations to prepare members and ensure timely notification of the inspection(s).

Resale

At the request of the seller (or the seller's agent), the resale package order will include an exterior lot inspection. Since this inspection is requested by the owner, notification of our intent to inspect is not required. However, staff is required to complete the inspection and deliver the package within fourteen (14) days of the request.

Post DRB

Performed after notification of a completed DRB-approved project is submitted or eighteen (18) months after the date of the approval of an application (whichever comes first) to check for compliance with the conditions of approval. Most members submit photographs of the completed project, which is helpful.

HOW TO GET INVOLVED IN RESTON

Join Volunteer Reston

Volunteer Reston is a part of Reston Association and is comprised of community members who come together to complete various projects to improve our surroundings while enhancing the quality of life for all Restonians.

Our mission is to build upon RA's services and programs by matching the talents of individuals and groups to engaging projects and endeavors.

Why Volunteer?

Volunteers play a critical role in helping Reston grow. Whether you are hoping to meet new neighbors, spend time with friends, learn new skills, make a positive impact in your community or complete school service hours, Volunteer Reston has something for everyone.

RA volunteers are all ages. They possess a wide range of skill levels and personalities. Volunteers include senior citizens, corporate teams, faith-based groups, families, college students, retirees, scouts and youth. Volunteer Reston has many different volunteer types including from year-round, seasonal, students, environmental, corporate groups and those interested in special events.

There are several ways to get involved. Some events happen frequently, whereas others happen on an annual or even one-time basis. Our recreational, environmental and administrative projects enable volunteers to meet other locals and learn more about Reston's growing community.

Make a Positive Environmental Impact

Reston is often praised for its trails, lakes and landscape. To preserve Reston's natural beauty, regular maintenance is essential. Consider supporting habitat restoration, watershed cleanups and other workday projects by signing up for an upcoming opportunity.

Opportunities include Habitat Heroes, stream monitoring, watershed cleanups, Earth Day, Arbor Day, Walker Nature Center events and other workdays.

Serve on RA Boards & Committees

Reston Association's boards and committees are where you can really immerse yourself in a cause or area that suits you. The Board of Directors is comprised of nine members, and elections to the board are held annually. All members – homeowners and tenants – are encouraged to participate in the annual elections which are held in March.

Like the Elections Committee and the Covenants Committee, the Design Review Board (DRB) is mandated by Reston's Deed. The DRB is responsible for reviewing exterior alterations and improvements of properties. Application to join the DRB can be found at www.reston.org.

Advisory committees are comprised of RA members who provide advice on association matters and perform such duties as may be requested by the Board of Directors. Each advisory committee meets generally once a month and is comprised of up to 15 members, a board member as a liaison and at least one RA staff liaison. Members are appointed to advisory committees for three-year terms.

Find out more about these boards and committees and find applications to join at www.reston.org:

- Board of Directors
- Covenants Committee
- Design Review Board
- Elections Committee
- Environmental Advisory Committee
- Fiscal Committee
- Parks & Recreation Advisory Committee
- Board Information Technology Committee

Join the Community Events Volunteer Team

Reston Association frequently hosts community events throughout the year. These events allow Reston locals to meet, network, share stories and work together with camaraderie and stewardship.

Community events include the Winterfest, Halloween House & Trick-or-Treat Trail, Community Yard Sale, Spring Festival, Totally Trucks and many more.

Corporate Day of Service

Volunteer Reston's corporate volunteer program offers expertise in community service to corporations by creating customized, hands-on group volunteer projects that complement team building, leadership development and philanthropy initiatives. Through this program, RA staff will fully develop and coordinate all aspects of your company's community service volunteer project.

Corporate projects will go through the Friends of Reston, a 501(c)(3) organization established in 1999 to support the Reston Association in bringing valuable projects to the community. The group allows the association to tap into other resources to bring great community projects to fruition on our land, at our facilities and within our programs.

Need Service Hours for School?

Many students in Reston and the surrounding area are required to perform a specific number of community service hours for their course or school requirements. Volunteer Reston is a great way to fulfill these hours. Students may be able to finish their service hours by handling shifts at community events, environmental projects, monthly service projects and community cleanups. This also includes scouting organizations that needs to complete a community service project.

For more information about Volunteer Reston, please contact Ha Brock, Volunteer Reston Manager via email ha@reston.org or 703-435-7986.

Camps

Reston Camps is the longest-operating camp program in our community. At Reston Camps, we explore nature, find new talents, try new activities, play games and make lasting friendships. We help children grow physically, emotionally, and socially with an emphasis on respect for themselves and others. At Reston Camps, we hire experienced staff with a passion for providing children with a rewarding and memorable experience. All staff receives extensive training in positive behavior support, child development, and child abuse training, as well as mandatory certification in CPR/First Aid/AED, a criminal background check and a Central Registry check. We pride ourselves in small group sizes and our safety and supervision exceed the minimum standards for child day centers, as required by the Virginia Department of Social Services. Generations of Restonians, from campers to counselors, have participated in Reston Camps. Come play with us. For more information contact us at camp@reston.org.
